The nature of Chaos

A reflection of my recent experiences with the subject

Upon the trail through the mountains leading from the lands of Blackstone to the Gorge country of Myrr an incident occurred that has left a distinct impression on me and it is on this that I would like to speak for the edifice of the reader of this publication. I was riding my horse through the confines of a dreadful valley upon whose too steep walls I will not speak of here except to express the horror that overtook me as I went deeper and deeper into the sunless chasm between them. I progressed further, and had to light a torch to keep from being overtaken by the darkness though the sun was scarcely past the 9 o'clock mark. Then I came upon a site that made my heart sink. Before me was a pile of rubble that reached halfway up the thin passage along the sheer cliffs. Disheartened I resolved to turn about and return to the main road and take the long way to Myrr, circumnavigating the mountains and adding two weeks to my travel time. Then, horror of horrors, a hoard of fearsome and wild beasts swept upon me from all sides! Thinking quickly I let fly what the barbarians call battle magic but to more civilized tongue is named the magical and philosophical school of Chaos. The beastly creatures were soon laid low, tainted and paralyzed, wounded and dead.

Exhausted from the skirmish I sat back upon the stones that prevented my egress from this darkened abyss. I saw my poor horse before me, its ribs exposed and innards eviscerated from the filthy claws of these beasts. Then an old adage my teacher once spoke came to me. "Josephus," quote he, "The true magic of chaos is not its power to take life but its power to act beyond it. For while some say that necromancy and chaos are separate fields of the arcane I say unto you that there is no true distinction. The side of a coin engraved with the King's seal is separate from the side his face is upon, but all that separates them is a fine edge that can easily be flipped."

And so it was. By flipping my perceptions I reached for my spellbook and cast the spell of Animate Dead upon my poor horse and four of the creatures, and had the beasts clear the rocks aside. I then rood out of that chasm, back into the light, my horse keeping its pace with unflinching accuracy on the barren rock, my new protection keeping an unsleeping watch over me, protecting me from dangers unseen. As my old master said, perception is a tool of the mage, just another reality that can either be mastered or master you. I encourage all to consider this before they, automaton like, blindly accept the standard, unthinking condemnation of chaos.

Rumor Has It...

The Purists are the product of a long running plan by Sir Delwyn to assassinate Duke Pinetree and install Baron Silvercord as ruler of Therendry.

Lord Zug owns a number of slave pits in Springshire, where he has his captives fight for his amusement.

Liam plans to lead House Wave against Basil and “Rid the swamp of his abhorrent presence”.

We have seen black, blue, and red. Beware, for in 603 the green hoardlings arrive.

There exists deep in the woods surrounding Calais a hidden cave. Any who find its vine shrouded entrance and survive the labyrinth of traps can find an enchanted spring where a maiden in white awaits to bestow a magical shield upon the first to lead her into the sunlight again.

Sir Sethos suffers from mint addiction.

Twelve warriors set off from Blackstone to journey to Midland County. Three died, four were lost to the shadows of the night, and four arrived as undead. The missing one is the key to the mystery.

A hobgoblin has been seen in the woods around Calais recently, mocking the dark elven culture and referring to himself as “Stupid darkelf drae”.

Tomas is the son of Papaya Effendi.

Garendor has undergone a frightful change in appearance since his last visit to this time.

45 gold coins can buy you the best assassin in Therendry. Place them in the Fountain in Calais at four in the morning, along with the name of the party you want dead. They will have suffered a death by that time the next day.

If you want your weapons rendered indestructible seek out the little crooked man in the woods to the north of Calais. He will do the task if the party who finds him can complete the task he asks of them.

Cormyn Bloodstar is planning to spirit forge into an earth templar.

The Duchy of Blackstone is doomed! The earth is exacting revenge upon it for the massive incursion of chaos that has come to the land.

Strider, now that he is no longer a Baron, is going to devote himself to House Silvercord and become its champion.

Strange purple jellyfish have washed up on the shores all across the coast. They are harmless, but if touched give off a frightful shock.

Ivy and Mario plan to form an army of shield wielding stealth tacticians.

The Belmonts are hoarding all the magical weapons in Stonereach.

Viscountess Kiera has a brother. He is currently a dark elf.

Lynne has not been seen for months as she is planning to lead an army of butterfly scavengers against the forces of Zimmerman, and they need training.

Leviathan is brewing some strawberry wine that will be the sweetest thing any have drunk.

Caliphar plans to become a fearsome warrior as soon as he can find the magic bow he longs for.

Kilana plans to overthrow the guilds in the region and use them for her own benefit and advancement.

The Purists are overcompensating for something...they wish they were all Dark Elven.

Baron Silvercord is purple, carries a dagger, and likes monkeys.

Duke Ellis Pinetree is giving duties to all of the women of Therendry so that he can gather them into a harem...

There is a rogue Darkstrider wandering around the lands...he has spoken in support of the younger Darkstrider already...but no one knows him, or anything about him. What alliance does he have with her, other than bloodline?

Boboda is planning to abduct Acadia and give her to Zimmerman as a show of good faith between them.

Packs Silverrod and Stormwolf have formed an alliance.

The Mystic Wood Elves are coming back.

Blue is secretly happy she is a human. She was getting tired of people playing with her horns.

Baron Silvercord is in love with Tynsil. He is planning to ambush Glenn.

Ask a Resurrecting Spirit

Dear Resurrecting Spirit,

I just got married not too long ago to a wonderful woman. But I find myself pining for a beautiful young hobbling. I don't know if it's her power that attracts me, or simply the pie. Should I be honest and tell my wife about this, or let it go?

Wild Elf in Distress

Dear Wild Elf,

Hey, I'm over here! Didn't you see me on the ground? I was right at your feet! What, you couldn't have found me a life spell? Huh? Now I have to take a death and go resurrect.

Thanks a lot. Wait till I reassume my form. It's on then, donkey or no donkey.

Dear Resurrecting Spirit,

My father is out of control! I was fine on my own before he adopted me...I don't see why he feels he has to control every little aspect of my life. He won't let me mate; he won't even let me visit my own family! For the love of everything that's holy, I'm 22! How can I make him see that even though I'm still young, I'm not a little girl anymore?

Not a Girl, Not Yet a Woman

Dear Girl,

I can't believe I'm on my way to the earth circle to resurrect. How could they let me die? I know that loud dark elf female HAD to have a life spell...or that mystic wood sarr or WHATEVER she is. How could this happen? My spirit is already so weak! I don't even know if I'll survive this! Why did they just IGNORE me?! Am I NOT GOOD ENOUGH for them to WASTE a life spell on, much less healing? Argh!

Dear Resurrecting Spirit,

I have a son...he holds a noble title and is the head of a house that I have been a member of. He has been quite disrespectful and keeps trying to tell me what to do! I tell you, his behavior is unmanageable and I just want to spank him, as he deserves. Should I just leave the house quietly, or should I stay on and show him some discipline and respect for his mother?

Fed Up With His Acting like A Spoiled Brat

Dear Brat,

Oh, sure. So I feel like I'm falling, and...oof! Did you have to throw my spirit so hard to the ground? This is like torture, but worse! Why are you doing this to me? It hurts so much! I know I'll never see the light of Tyrra again! I wish I had never come to this gather!!! I feel like I'm sinking...

Dear Resurrecting Spirit,

I am a very skilled healer. But I seem to have a huge problem...I am addicted to necromancy! If I don't cast it at least once a day, I find myself getting irate and loud. I know necromancy is wrong, but it feels so right! Help me!

Creating Undead and Loving It

Dear Undead,

My spirit feels so weak...I'm fading away...oh, why did this have to happen? All they had to do was heal me...did they even bother to check me? Lousy bums. Now my spirit and my body can't meet...and I have met my permanent death. Thanks a lot. May you all walk the plane of fire and never come back.

The State of Affairs in Midland County

The Barons of both Blade and Havencrest have been very busy in the past months. It seems they have several road repair and upgrade projects going on. Cobblestones from all over are being requisitioned to create military-ready roads to key points and cities between the baronies. The former city of Middleton has changed hands several times now between the two Barons and at this time it seems Baron Valoric Creehawk will retain the city as part of the Barony of Havencrest. Repairs are being made to several cities including Dalton, Stateron and others. There are even rumors that the town of Blade may be rebuilt. All this activity has created an atmosphere of hope for the inhabitants of these lands. There are plenty of jobs available, the signs of war are fading, and life is quickly getting back to normal. It is good to see the two Barons, Baron Silvercord and Baron Creehawk, work together to help restore the County of Midland back to its former glory.

One would almost think they were not in competition with each other for the position of Count for Midland County.

If this spirit of cooperation continues throughout the year, it will be difficult for the Duke to choose between the two Barons, and when he does it is the hope of this reporter that the other will stay on as a Baron to continue helping the people they serve.

WHAT DOES IT TAKE TO BE A NOBLE?

WHAT IS A NOBLE? IS IT THE PERSON'S UPBRINGING? IS IT THE CARRIAGE OF A PERSON? IS IT THE WAY THAT PERSON TREATS OTHERS? WHAT MAKES A NOBLE A NOBLE PERSON? CAN IT BE LEARNED, OR IS IT AN INHERENT QUALITY OF A BEING? THESE QUESTIONS ARE BEING ASKED BY MANY AND THE ANSWERS ARE ALMOST AS NUMEROUS. IT SEEMS THAT "NOBILITY" IS A COMPLEX IDEA AND IS DEFINED IN MANY DIFFERENT WAYS. WHAT ONE PERSON MAY SEE AS NOBLE ANOTHER MAY NOT. CAN WE BOIL DOWN WHAT A NOBLE REALLY IS? IS

THERE SOME REFERENCE OR TEXT THAT EXPLAINS THIS IDEA SO ALL OF US CAN UNDERSTAND? THERE MAY BE ONE RESOURCE THAT IS UNIVERSALLY REGARDED AS A GUIDE TO WHAT NOBILITY OR BEING NOBLE IS ALL ABOUT, AND THAT IS THE CODE OF CHIVALRY. THE CODE IS A SET OF RULES OR LAWS THAT DEFINE THE ACTIONS OF NOBLES AND THOSE THAT WISH TO FOLLOW A NOBLE PATH. THIS CODE IS FREELY AVAILABLE TO ALL THAT WISH TO READ IT AND FOLLOW ITS TENANTS. YOU DON'T HAVE TO BE A NOBLE TO BE NOBLE; YOU JUST HAVE TO FOLLOW THE CODE OF

CHIVALRY. NOW, THERE MAY BE SOME THAT DISAGREE WITH ME, BUT I FEEL THERE IS NO BETTER WAY TO START ON THE PATH OF BEING NOBLE THAN TO FOLLOW THIS CODE. IF ONE WISHES TO DISCUSS THIS CODE, THERE WILL BE SEVERAL CLASSES ON THE CODE OF CHIVALRY IN THE COMING MONTHS AT WHICH SEVERAL OF OUR NOBLE PEERAGE WILL DISCUSS THEIR VIEWS ON IT AND THE IDEA OF NOBILITY. FEEL FREE TO ATTEND AND JOIN IN THE DISCUSSION. BELOW IS THE CODE OF CHIVALRY. READ IT, CONTEMPLATE IT, AND DECIDE WHETHER IT IS RIGHT FOR YOU.

The Code of Chivalry

Thou shalt respect the weak and thou shalt constitute thyself the defender of them.

Thou shalt love the country in which thou hast sworn fealty.

Thou shalt no recoil before thine enemy.

Thou shalt make war on evil without cessation.

Thou shalt scrupulously perform thy (noble) duties be they not contrary to the laws of the land.

Thou shalt never lie and thou shalt remain faithful to thy word.

Thou shalt be generous and thou shalt give freely to everyone.

Thou shalt be courteous and thou shalt be humble.

Papaya Effendi does declare that Papaya Effendi, the embodiment of all that is great upon Tyrra, has yet to find the four eunuchs Papaya Effendi seeks. Should any adventurers desire to live the life of adventure and answer the call Papaya Effendi does proclaim that 1,000 pieces of gold shall be given to any who are willing to part with the pieces a eunuch has no use of. Papaya Effendi will further induce incentive for these coveted positions by offering a magical weapon of the eunuchs choice to the eunuch who proves himself most worthy in battle. That is 1,000 pieces of the King's gold and a magical weapon! No sane adventurer would or should turn down this once in a lifetime offer! So make the choice and proudly become a eunuch for Papaya Effendi! What have you to lose, except for you incredulity?

ASSASSINATIONS IN BLACKSTONE!

THE CITY OF BRAUGHM-ROAD WAS ROCKED TO ITS VERY FOUNDATIONS WITH REPORTED MULTIPLE ASSASSINATIONS TAKING PLACE WITHIN CASTLE BLACKSTONE. INFORMATION HAS BEEN SLOW IN COMING BUT THUS FAR 19 RESURRECTIONS ARE CONFIRMED FROM WITHIN THE CASTLE.

AMONG THOSE RESURRECTED ARE DUKE DEREK BLACKSTONE, GUILDMASTER JONATHAN BUTTONS, AND LORD MORAVIA STONEFIST. THE REMAINDER OF THE RESURRECTIONS APPEARS TO HAVE BEEN GUARDSMEN STATIONED WITHIN CASTLE BLACKSTONE.

THE PERPETRATORS OF THIS HEINOUS ACT CURRENTLY REMAIN UNIDENTIFIED. IN FACT THEY APPEAR TO HAVE GOTTEN CLEANLY OUT OF THE CAPITOL ALTOGETHER. THE REASONS FOR THE ASSASSINATION ARE ALSO A MYSTERY.

CURRENTLY CASTLE BLACKSTONE IS LOCKED. DOUBLE THE NUMBER OF GUARDSMEN CAN BE SEEN UPON THE PARAPETS, AND THE DRAWBRIDGE REMAINS UP AT THE MOMENT. THE ONLY ACCESS TO THE CASTLE APPEARS TO BE VIA CIRCLE WALKING FROM THE MAGES GUILD.

HIS GRACE HAS MADE AN APPEARANCE AND STATED THAT THE PERPETRATORS OF THE DEED WILL BE APPREHENDED. HE FURTHER STATED THAT ALL WAS WELL WITHIN BRAUGHM-ROAD AND THE POPULACE NEED NOT WORRY.

On the Known Groups of Evendarr

In an effort to record all of the information possible in this area, I have publicly posted one of the many documents in my possession, The Known Groups of Evendarr.

In collecting information for the document, I referenced private missives and information gleaned from letters on the fae tree. Further, I requested information from many personages that were willing to speak with me.

I have discovered that many points of the document are incomplete or incorrect; moreover, I have had to remove portions of the document altogether. Further, there are inconsistencies in the document still.

I have several interested parties working on helping me quantify the information into several categories and to verify the information; however, I welcome any additional assistance available.

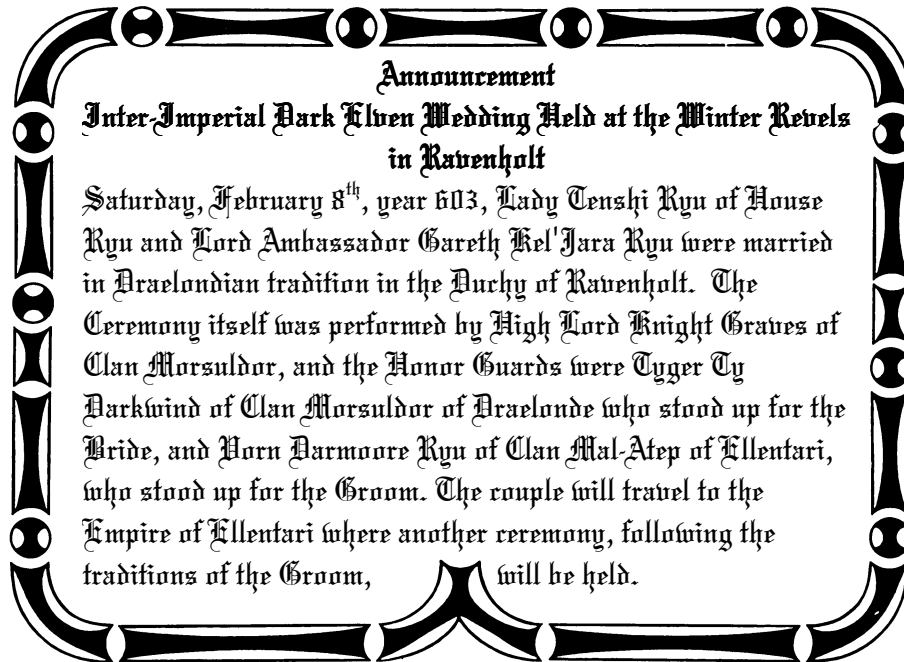

If you have knowledge of missing or incorrect information in the document, please contact me via private courier pai@stonereach.com or public courier via the Ivy Hind guild.

Thank any and all for assistance in this matter,

Rumor Has It...Continued

Mirage is using Liam to get to Baron Simeon Silvercord.

Baron Strider is in love with Mirage. He plans to kill Liam and use her for his own purposes.

Liam only started House Wave for the power trip. He secretly delights in the death of his teammates...how ELSE do you explain it?

Dalgaron is in love with Acadia.

Zymmerman is Zimmerman's little brother.

Lord Zug De'Kiernan is a spy for Baron Silvercord in the Therenstar House.

Due to the construction repairing the towns and roads damaged during the Civil War, there an abundance of jobs for the commoners.

The printing industry of Avalon is inherently disrupted by the lack of market days in the winter season.

Duke Blackstone was assassinated by members of his own Court.

Nature Itself is trying to destroy the Duchy of Blackstone.

Sheriff Glenn Stormwolf is a leader of a secret necromancer's association.

Encaren has been seen sneaking off into the woods during his off-hours.

Pain and anguish await those who hold the shards of green. Do not hold onto these items. Destroy them if you can!

John Little is Garendor.

If John Little is not Garendor, then Boo certainly is.

House Silvercord and House Therenstar have decided to work together because they are afraid that if they don't the Duke will give the County to Lochwood.

The Incarnation of Evil is seeking a new proxy...current contenders for the position are Draelin Carlylin, Spice, and Finna. Rumor has it that one of the women is a shoo-in.

Dame Pai Zhi's library is not really hers. It was stolen from another Stone Elf, that she got a biata to mess with so that they would not remember her taking it. Rumor has it that biata is Spice...

Adrian Serife and Kestral Lightfeather stole the Ivy Hind to use as a front for their super-secret thieves' guild.

Corin Sunliner is under assignment for Duke Pinetree to seek out the true assassin's guild in Therendry for his own political use.

Count De'Genovia has not answered the interview questions sent to him...Rumor has it that he has been assassinated by Duke Pinetree so that his lands may be annexed for Count Davy of Lochwood.

What do you get when you mix a Stone Elf and a Woven? An angry dark elf...

The Legal Corner

Reports of the crimes committed in the area in the past few months have been requested but not received. I am reporting, then, on the crimes for which I have proclamations.

An order of arrest has been issued by Baron Valoric Treehawk and Baron Simeon S. Silvercord for the group calling themselves the Purists. The organization has been found guilty of Assault, Conspiracy, Contempt, Public Disorder, Kidnapping, Murder and High Treason. Any citizen found to be associated with the Purist organization will be held accountable for the aforementioned crimes.

An order of arrest has been issued by Baron Valoric Treehawk and Baron Simeon S. Silvercord for Lutharian Kain for the crime of Necromancy.

A standing order of arrest from Duke Ellis Pinetree exists for the adventurer Boboda Wrexoul for the High Crimes of Disobeyance of a Lawful Order, Consortium, Assault.

A standing order of arrest from Duke Ellis Pinetree exists for the adventurer Celcian for the crime of Necromancy.

A standing order of arrest from the nobility of Therendry exists for Darken Rahl, regarding his post of IO-24-O2 on the fae tree in which he states "Shut the H&ll Up", a phrase used and punished once already in these lands.

A standing order of arrest from Duke Ellis Pinetree exists for the Robyn for the crime of Murder, Assault and Necromancy.

A standing order of arrest from Duke Ellis Pinetree exists for the Zimmerman for the crime of Murder, Assault, Kidnapping and Necromancy.

A standing order of arrest from Duke Ellis Pinetree exists for the Hand of Darkness for the crime of Murder, Assault, Kidnapping and Necromancy.

There are no personages currently considered to be Kill-on-Sight in Therendry.

The phrases "come get some" and "bring it" are the exclusive domain of the Comital Court of Lyonesse and its allies, save when they are attributed to that body and used in the proper context. Any personage found to be using said phrases in an inappropriate or ignoble fashion or without citing the proper source shall be found guilty of Mockery by the Comte de Lyonesse, Davy of Lochwood.

An Interview with Count Orsino De'Genovia, Count of Richland

Q: What does being a Count mean to you?

A: It means more work to do, more coin to count, and more daggers to be wary of.

Q: Were you aware that the title was going to be bestowed on you?

A: Let us say that there is very little that surprises me.

Q: In what ways do you feel the title is deserved?

A: I am the best man for the job. However, I remind you, one is born into nobility. There is much to privilege and position that those born to common stock cannot understand. I see little reason to provide title to commoners. True, all current lineage was granted title at one point, but I ask--have new bloodlines sprung from the nothing in the following generations? Those with worth are already of the noble caste.

Q: In what ways do you feel the title is not deserved?

A: Were you listening just now??

Q: Is there anything you want the people you govern to know about you?

A: Yes. Tell them that hard work is rewarded.

Q: What have you done about squiring or bestowing title to those who helped you reach this position?

A: I take care of my family and my clientela.

Q: What do you consider the most important part of being a titled noble?

A: The preservation of trust between yourself and your liege. Also the protection and preservation of those lands placed in your care.

Q: How would you respond to your critics?

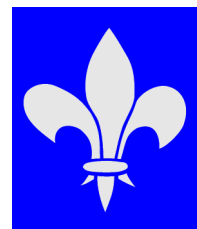

A: I have no critics. Those who compete with my ventures or my politics are my peers. We do not stoop to public criticism. Anyone else who complains is of little consequence.

Q: How would you like to be addressed?

A: I value the traditions. Please use my formal title of address.

Q: Is there a Countess De'Genovia? What about your son, the Lord? Rumor has it that you are seeking a wife for him...

A: Yes, my son Urbino, Lord Pascalla, is unwed. We are currently searching for a suitable young lady to marry him to.
